Garden of Smiles UnMasked

AboutFace is proud to partner with Artist Jeremy Bortz on a new art program that will help bring bright smiles to faces and vibrant colour and beauty to new places!

Tonight AboutFace "unmasks" this new venture and invites you to help us build our Garden of Smiles. Starting tonight, you can purchase an original, one-of-a-kind art piece by Jeremy for your pleasure while at the same time donating one piece to the AboutFace Garden of Smiles. Our goal is to collect 25 or more paintings and exhibit them in a craniofacial/cleft clinic, respite lobby, or public venue so that our Garden of Smiles can bring awareness and smiles to individuals touched by facial differences.

How does the program work?

Tonight only, you can purchase two paintings of your choice for $250 – one for you to keep and one for AboutFace's wall. All paintings are one-of-a-kind originals by Jeremy, 8x8 acrylic on canvas. After tonight, AboutFace will set up the Garden of Smiles in a public place for others to enjoy and to learn more about AboutFace.

About the Artist

Jeremy Bortz was born in Johannesburg, South Africa and immigrated to Canada in 2000. After graduating, Jeremy pursued a career as an artist, photographer, picture framer and entrepreneur. Jeremy's art has gained popularity among numerous individuals and corporations. He is regularly commissioned to paint custom works of art and is an avid supporter of charities, where he regularly donates original art in support of their fundraising efforts. Jeremy's art is available through selected galleries around the world.
